

YWOMENVOTE 2022 - MIDTERM ELECTIONS

Spotlight on Millennial Women of Color

This spotlight on Millennial women of color provides a brief overview of their concerns and priorities heading into the 2022 midterm elections. Drawn from YWCA USA’s fifth national survey of women in the United States, this data frames clear expectations for legislative action to address their concerns and priorities. While women overall are remarkably consistent in their concerns and priorities, the nuanced experiences of demographic subgroups of women – including women of color and younger women – shape their specific expectations for action to meet their most pressing concerns.

Young voters under 40 – the Millennial generation and Generation Z - now make up a third of the voting electorate and represent the largest, most racially diverse group of voters in the nation—and their influence in elections is poised to continue to grow. Between 2016 and 2020, millennial voter turnout alone increased by 36%. By 2030, these two groups will make up more than half of all eligible voters in the United States.

Enthusiasm and Impact: Millennial Women of Color

More than two-thirds of Millennial women of color (66%) surveyed believe the midterm federal election results in 2022 will have at least somewhat of an impact on their lives and their families’ lives. ### Survey Methodology

This online survey was designed and conducted by Finn Partners. It reached a total of N=3,354 women nationwide between June 21, 2022 and August 2, 2022. This sample is inclusive of oversamples of women in six states (N=400 in each of Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, and Texas), younger women of color (N=200 Gen Z, N=200 millennial), and American Indian/Alaska Native (AI/AN) women (N=81), all of which were weighted down to the appropriate size nationwide. The combined reach of this survey and additional oversamples enabled examination of demographic subgroups by race and ethnicity (Black women, Hispanic women/Latinas, Asian American and Pacific Islander women, and American Indian/Alaska Native women), and by generation.

About YWCA USA

For over 160 years, YWCA has been on a mission to eliminate racism, empower women, and promote peace, justice, freedom, and dignity for all. YWCA has been at the forefront of the most pressing social movements – from voting rights to civil rights, from affordable housing to pay equity, from violence prevention to health care reform. Today, we combine programming and advocacy in order to generate institutional change in three key areas: racial justice and civil rights, empowerment and economic advancement of women and girls, and health and safety of women and girls.
